Use of data for company purposes and transfer to third parties such as transport operators, banks etc.

Dear Customer,

The new EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which ensures uniform regulation throughout Europe of the way companies deal with personal data, comes into effect today, 25.05.2018. To make sure that we can continue to implement business operations and communication with you in an optimum way, we need your consent.

1) Collection and use of data for the implementation of contracts

We process and use any personal data you provide us with in writing, in particular your name, address, email address, telephone, fax or mobile phone numbers, for the due execution of the contractual relationship under which the data is provided and, to the extent that this is legally necessary, to comply with the periods for the storage of data which are prescribed by the tax authorities, for example.

Any use of your personal data as described in Section 2 which goes beyond this will only be implemented on a voluntary basis and with your consent.

I hereby permit Heckert Solar GmbH to transfer my personal data to third parties, too, where necessary for the implementation of orders. This applies, for example, to freight forwarders, providers of shipping services, commercial databases, banks etc.

I hereby permit Heckert Solar GmbH to store my personal data in its customer database, even after the completion of an order, and to use the data for subsequent orders or enquiries.

Important!

The data which is provided by you voluntarily under Point 1 is required for the fulfilment of contracts or to implement pre-contractual measures. Without this data we are unable to process orders in full.

2) Provision of consent to the use of data for information and advertising purposes

I also agree that Heckert Solar GmbH can send me information on the following subjects (optional):

3) Information, correction, deletion or blocking of your personal data/ right of objection

You can at any time require us to provide you with information about your personal data which we have collected, and require it to be corrected, deleted or blocked. You can also at any time amend or revoke your declaration of consent with effect for the future, without giving any reasons for this. You will not incur any costs in doing so.
